Another State Senator

Revival again this year of the age old attempt to "reshuffle" the State Senate to give Southern California control of the State Legislature calls to mind that the last time such a measure was presented in 1948 it did not carry in a sin-

The effort of some Los Angeles politicians to place the highly sectional issue on the 1960 ballot at the same time the Statewide Water Plan is to be submitted to voters would be the height of folly and could defeat the water project.

The need for more water is far greater than the dubious one of more sena-

However, there is another and more certain way in which Southern California might legitimately, constructively and more certainly secure one or more additional State Senators without in any way jeopardizing the successful passage of the State Water Project.

A shining example would be to support the creation of a NEW County in Southern California-in this case the long proposed and badly needed DES-ERT COUNTY.

As has so often been pointed out Riverside County is much too far flung and unbalanced to be properly operated as one County. What with the great population gains in the desert it is badly in need right now of being divided into two separate counties. One day its 200 mile width and 7,500 square miles might even eventually justify three counties.

There are several other almost statesize counties in Southern California which with present rapid growth might Senator to represent the people of Southsoon justify creation of new counties, ern California.

also. Notable among these is giant San Bernardino, largest County in the United States with its 20,157 square miles, and in which Needles is clamoring for another County. Inyo with 10,019 square miles and Kern with 8,172 are among

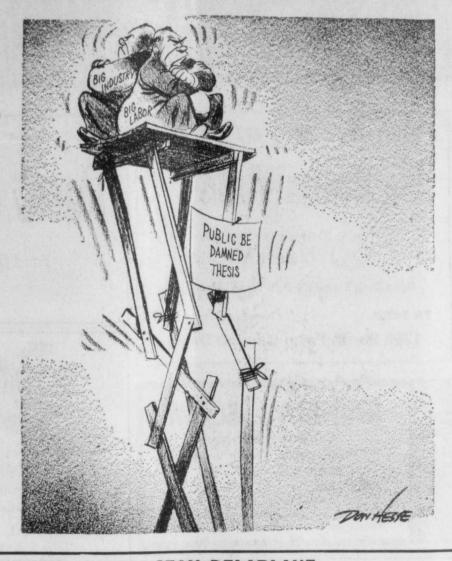

On the other hand there are a number of excellent prospects for consolidations of some of the many extremely small Northern California counties with consequent tax savings as an incentive. Among logical prospects are such as Alpine, 776 square miles; Amador, 601; Napa, 790; Nevada, 974; San Mateo, 454. Santa Cruz, 435; Sierra, 923; Solano, 827; Tehema, 607, and Yuba, 639. Many of these were formed during the gold rush, are lightly populated and slow growing. What with the advent of the automobile distances are nominal and savings to the taxpayers could be ap-

Conversely in Southern California counties on the average are many times as large, the once great open spaces are teeming with mushrooming communities in dire need of partitioning into new counties for efficient and economical County government.

Thus by expanding to keep up to date with public needs from County government in Southern California, and consolidating in Northern California, a happy balance could be brought about by constructive means in the State Senate for the best interests of the people in all parts of California.

The creation of Desert County should head the list in providing another State

Joshua once told the sun to stand still. But he was talking east and west. Tomorrow the sun WILL stand still - momentarily - but I mean north and south.

The furious combat will leave the on-looker fagged but gratified.

IN THIS CORNER: John M. Blair, 45, who hates Big Business, chief economist for Sena-Kefauver's investigation of administered prices — a tense, suspicious, dedicated liberal.

In the other corner: Sylvester Petro, 42, who hates Big Labor, professor at New York University's Law School, a witness at and a writer about Senator Mc-Clellan's investigation of wrongdoing in Labor and Management - a relaxed, prolific, dedicated

THESE TWO ARE matched because they both believe that competition is badly snarled in the entanglements of our complex economic society. But Dr. Blair finds that the big corporations are terrible offenders against the freedom of competition. While Professor Petro finds that big unions are the boss-ridden stiflers of freedom both in enterprise and in the private lives of the workers.

The men are opposed in their ideas (although they apparently never met) on other counts. Dr. Blair, if I understand him, advances a doctrine of Original Sin concerning the misbehavior of Big Business. He seems to feel that "oligopolistic" indus-tries (those which are "few" in number and generally big in size) get that way because of certain inborn tendencies

A BUSINESS, LIKE a person, tends to succeed to the extent of ability and of the healthful ness of the environment. But business which reaches an advanced stage of success and size, according to Dr. Blair, becomes a monopoly and begins to smother its competition.

This is bad. Small business gets driven to the wall. The free enterprise system bogs The consumer is crushed between two millstones - on top, an upward movement of prices; below, the shrinking supply of IT IS NOT ENOUGH, not even Prof. Petro, if I follow his arguments, does not embrace the Original Sin doctrine. He appears to believe that our eco-nomic troubles are man-made and hence man-remedial. Far from holding Bigness in horror, as Dr. Blair does, Prof. Petro inclines to rejoice in the sight of strength and grandeur. He would say with Shakespeare: "O, it is excellent to have a giant's strength; but it is tyrannous to use it like a giant.

NOT THE SIZE but the violence of Big Labor is what peeves the Professor. In a recent magazine piece, he writes: The greatest abuse of unions today is their widespread exercise of force - overt and covert on American workers and employers." He does not propose that we try to curb this Labor aggression by bringing Labor, like Business, under the anti-Unlike Dr. Blair, Prof. Petro feels that a lot of good can be said for monopoly. He points out (something that Dr. Blair, in our interview, seemed surprised to hear) that the Sherman Act, our basic "anti-monopoly" law, does not anywhere contain the noun "monopoly." What the Law is against is "any person who shall monopolize . . . or com-bine or conspire to monopolize." As in the Shakespearean quotation above, it is all right to be a giant but not to tyrannize like a giant. The verb, not the noun, is forbidden.

IF, BY THIS TIME, the reader is as bushed as the writer, we had better summarize and quit for the day. But let us observe that in this brain battle between the ideas of the liberal Blair and the conservative Petro, we have a fundamental conflict which can never be recon-The liberal sees an inherent evil in economic life: the strong grow up to devour the weak, and there ought to be more Law. The conservative sees no inherent evil in strength, but only in misusing strength, and the remedy is not recourse to punitive law but revision of such Law which gives too much power to those, like the Labor Bosses, who abuse it

The liberal would set force against force to keep economic competition free. The conservative would "eliminate compu sion from Labor relations." The first has great faith that man, through his Government, can conquer the Original Sin. The second has equal faith that man, unfettered from the hand of Government and Boss, will get along

NO SINGLE incident establishes a pattern of interest. There were other good reasons besides the Cuban funeral which caused Rockefeller to realize early in life that whatever went on, good or bad, in any of the 21 American republics was of interest to them all. NOT ONLY did the United States lack close relationships with its 20 sister republics, but in many there was considerable antagonism to the United States.

Powerful Communist activities in the press, university, intellectual and cultural circles intensified this feeling; so did Nazi influence in economic, military and political areas, operating increasingly to undermine U. S. prestige in Latin-America as war clouds gathered in Europe.

By WILLIAM K. BECK My brother has written a couple of articles and I want to try my hand at it, as my friend, Pete Brown, and I have now joined Brother Bob in Europe.

Pete and I whisked from Los Angeles to Milan, Italy, by jet with a changeover at London. What a thrill it was to see tall, blond Bob as we left customs at Milan airport. He waved wildly to get my attention, but it was not necessary for Bob is six-foot-four and stood out like an Apollo.

Bob. First, he had let his butch haircut grow long and second he was able to jabber Italian like a veteran. He easily got us to the youth hostel, where we bedded down for some much needed rest after our flight.

Bob sold his scooter when he found out that Pete and I were going to join him so that we three could get a car. We had to wait a week for the car. During that week we almost got run down on the street several times, for cars the street several times, for cars ican hit records in the juke box, have the right of way and the such as those by Nat King Cole, poor pedestrians must look out for Fats Domino and Elvis Presley.

Pete was driving and Bob and I were in the back seat of our little Fiat.

THE THREE OF US simultaneously let out a blood curdling yell. Pete thought fast. He applied the brakes and swerved to the side between two guard posts. When we stopped the truck and our car were eight inches apart. Both drivers gave a sigh of relief and after all of us recovered from our fright of almost going over the mountain-

MIDAFTERNOON WE met a friend of Bob's who showed us the city. Bob had been in Europe long enough to make many friends in the hostels. This friend showed us where Mozart was born. We saw a huge castle on a mountaintop, climbing to it by cable car. The car was operated by water power just as in olden days. The panoramic view was wonderful. We saw the spot where the prosecutioners cut off the heads of Christians years ago. We saw where Sigmond Freud lived. All of this was like living in a dream world for we had read about all these things in history books.

Cookies Are Part of Christmas

most especially at Christmas.

With friends dropping in unexpectedly during the holiday sea-son, children home from school, and lots of entertaining, a good supply of special Christmas cookies is a "must." So get out your most colorful tray and plates and arrange an assortment of bright butter cookies on them.

To make cookies really special, as cookies for Christmas deserve to be, use these recipes that call for butter as the key ingredient. Butter enriches the cookies, and it has an incomparable natural flavor that improves their taste.

Chocolate Pie In Holiday Mood

Gaily decorated in honor of Christmas, this really elegant chocolate pie carries a spray of ribbon bedecked spruce, fashioned of tinted whipped cream and forced through a cake-decorator, It's sure to be a sensation at any holiday function.

Christmas Chocolate Pie 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin

we cup sugar
teaspoon salt
legg yolk, slightly beaten
cup milk

3 squares unsweetened chocolate

1 cup evaporated milk, whipped*
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cold

Mix gelatin, sugar, and salt in top of double boiler. Combine egg yolk and milk and add to gelatin mixture. Add chocolate. Cook over boiling water until chocolate is melted, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Beat with egg beater until mixture is smooth and blended. Chill until thickened. Fold in whipped evaporated milk and vanilla. Pile into baked pie shell. Chill.

To Make Corsage: Place 1 cup whipping cream, 2 teaspoons confectioners' sugar, and ½ teaspoon vanilla in a chilled bowl. Beat until cream holds its shape. Add a few drops green coloring and blend carefully. Put about one-fourth of whipped cream mixture in cake decorator and, using small round point, draw a spray of spruce tree branches on top of pie filling. Then, using leaf point of decorator, draw a ribbon bow at base of spray.

Place remaining whipped cream in serving dish and sprinkle with about 2 tablespoons chopped pistachio nuts. Serve with pie. *To whip evaporated milk, pour 1 cup into freezing tray. Chill in freezing compartment of refrigerator until tiny ice crystals begin to form around edges (about ½ hour.) Spoon into a cold bowl and whip rapidly with cold beater until milk is very stiff.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Pair

A reception in early January at the Rancho Mirage home of the bride's parents will honor newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. David Sing who were married in a double ring ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church in Las Vegas, Sunday, December 13, by Reverend Hanne.

The bride is the former Roberta Bedford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bedford and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sing of Cathedral City. The groom's ring, given to him by his bride, originally belonged to her grandfather.

The lovely bride, given in mar-riage by her father, chose a ballerina length gown of chantilly lace with a matching man-tilla embroidered with pearls, and she carried white roses.

Paula Bedford, maid of honor, and Doris Sing, bridesmaid, wore blue taffeta gowns with wrist bands of blue carnations.

Sam Jones acted as best man for the groom and John Bedford

During the ceremony wedding music was played by the bride's mother who is an accomplished 2B musician. Immediately following, a champagne reception with wedding cake was served at the home of the bride's aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mullins of Las Vegas.

The young couple will make their home at 545 C Street, Cathedral City, where he is associated with Hoams Construction Com-

The bride attended Palm Springs High School and is a Job's Daughter. The groom is a graduate of Palm Springs High School and won a scholarship to Santa Ana College. He is Past Master Counselor of De Molay.

Others present at the wedding were Mr. Mrs. Robert Sing, Philip Bedford, and Elaine Harr.

A rather poor family who lives n our block has five children of chool age. Nobody seems to care they go to school or not. Almost very day or two or three of them are seen walking up and down the street having the best time. The older girls stay out of school a week at a time and I know there nothing wrong with them. If you were in my place would ou notify the school authorities?

DEAR BAFFLED: If you are interested in doing a public service, call on the mother of these children and find out whether she is ill, incompetent or absent from the home. Perhaps this family needs some friendly as-

DEAR P. R. H.: One million, two hundred thousand apologies. My local postmaster informe me (right out of his 1959 manuai) that rural boxes should be "about 31/2 to 4 feet high." Of course everyone on the route should have his box at the most convenient height for his mailman. I wouldn't have intentionally offended the mailmen for anything in the world. They're my best friends.

Death Duel

MARENGO, Iowa (UPI)—Con-servation officials reported find-ing the dead bodies of two 300-pound buck deer, their horns locked in a dueling position, on the banks of the Iowa River.

The officials said the bucks apparently fell into the river during a battle to the death.
